

WEEKLY NEWS - NOVEMBER 18, 2008 Mathys & Squire opens fifth UK office

18 Nov 2008

UK patent and trade mark firm Mathys & Squire has opened an office in Manchester.

The office is headed by Gary Johnston and Robert Hawley, who join as partners.

They are both trade mark attorneys and were formerly directors of William A Shepherd & Son.

The firm, which has 14 partners in total, already has offices in London, Cambridge, Reading and York and says it aims to grow its UK client base and provide a local service to regional clients.
